In Phang Nga, food is part of the rhythm of everyday life. Fishermen guide their boats back to floating villages with the morning's catch, markets spill over with fruits, spices, and fresh herbs, and families gather around recipes passed down through generations. These traditions give Southern Thai cuisine its soul, a harmony of flavors that connects people to the land and the sea.

At Green Mango, we carry this spirit into our kitchen. The menu celebrates the culture of the South with dishes inspired by the villages and coasts of Phang Nga, while also welcoming international classics for balance and comfort. It is a dining experience that reflects the warmth of the region and the thoughtful hospitality of Grand Mercure Khao Lak Bangsak.
